La Candila

Tom just got back from Costa Rica on a special giving project where we donated blankets, shoes, socks, and school supplies to a small village. Please see our RocketLife show below.

As amazing and rewarding as our first trip with shoes and school supplies was, it was also sadly clear that even with everything we brought, it was not nearly enough for all the children of the village. So we want, actually we NEED to go back! Take a look at this second RocketLife show, and we thank you for your continued support!
